Products

With Cartizz, product management has never been simpler. Upload items to your online store and applications with just a few simple clicks. The Cartizz app allows you to:

- Add product images directly from your phone
- You determine the status of the product in a few steps
- You create special promotions for individual products
- You can easily mark the latest products

Promote your new products and set discounts for each item. Automatically inform customers about the latest products, promotions, promotions and other news. If a certain product is no longer available in your inventory, simply mark it as inactive.

Take a photo of the product or choose existing images from the gallery and upload them to your online store. All this directly from your phone, without additional help and tools!

Orders

Have a clear view of the list of all orders, track statistics and easily manage them. Some of the options that Cartizz offers you are:

- Complete insight into the status and statistics of orders
- Categorization of orders
- Printing the purchase order
- Downloading the list of orders by date and type

Track the status of each individual order in a simple and intuitive way. Whether shipped or cancelled, the order will be clearly recorded. Each order has its own unique ID number, which makes it even easier to track its status.

As orders and earnings are an important segment of all internet sales, Cartizz allows you a clear insight into the statistics of the orders themselves and the profit they have brought you. All information is presented to you using a graph, with the possibility of choosing the period that interests you.

The Cartizz system automatically sends you an email and a notification about the ordered product. All you have to do is make your customer happy by confirming their purchase.

Customers

Customers are your priority. All information about them is in your phone. With Cartizz, you can easily:

- You invite all potential customers to your internet shop
- You add certain customers to the premium category
- You stimulate new customers by sending certain discounts
- You send customers a value coupon and much more

Enter the e-mail address of a particular customer and choose a discount or coupon to reward him in his next purchase. Great way to get their attention, right?

Insight into the information about the customer and his spending gives you the opportunity to reward loyal customers or encourage others to become premium customers. The personalized offer that reaches your customer is created in just a few clicks.

All customers are equally important, but there are always those who are special. The system marks such customers as premium and allows you to thank them for their trust with an original coupon promotion.

Promotions

Whether you want to increase sales or gain customer loyalty, Cartizz is just what you need. With Cartizz, you can:

- You create coupons for individual products
- You single out a group of products for a special discount
- You create a sale and set the terms of the sale
- You get a clear insight into the duration of promotions

With the Cartizz app, control of sales, personalized offers and coupons is always available. Manage the length of their duration, the amount of the discount and how customers will be notified.

Promotions for premium customers, total sale, or group promotion of your best products - with Cartizz, create promotions tailored to your customers. That's not all!

As soon as you create a promotion, your customers will receive an email and a notification about it right away.

Check the status of promotions in the blink of an eye. In just a few steps, track when the promotion started and when it ends. In the Cartizz application, all completed promotions are available to you and you can reactivate them if they were successful.

Lager

Integrated with:

Information about the remaining stocks of your products, their availability, as well as updating the stock status, are no longer a problem. Cartizz offers you:

- Ability to quickly download the current stock status
- Adding a new stock list
- Clear display of products that are out of stock
- Easily add inventory for products

Download the list showing the current state of your inventory and forward it whenever you want. Another convenience that our solution offers is adding a new inventory list for your online store in just a few minutes. Cartizz sends you information about products that are out of stock - their status is clearly displayed on the screen. While automated promotion lets your customers know that the product is "soon to be gone."

With the Cartizz app, a new stock list is easily added and individual product stocks are quickly replenished through a simple interface from anywhere at any time.

We have a great suggestion for you!

We are aware of how much time, effort and energy it takes to create a functional online store.

So leave it to the experienced Cartizz team and start selling online today.

It costs you nothing to talk to us for 30 minutes so that we can show you that your online sales can be ready immediately.

You won't have any costs until we clearly agree and tailor your web sales according to your business and needs.
